Newsletter for April 2012

The Jerusalem weathergirl smiled as she faced the camera. "And the forecast for this Passover is good. Clear skies, no wind and top temperatures of 18<sup>0</sup>, that's 64<sup>0</sup> Fahrenheit. Enjoy the holiday. Good night."

In the gloomy depths of the UI (Universal Insurgency), the commander smiled as he watched the prisoner groan, and then sob with pain. Tomorrow was going to be a good day. A Good Friday, in fact. His chief aides cheered and passed a bottle of champagne around the room.

The Jerusalem weathergirl smiled as she faced the camera. "The weather today is set to be good with the chance of some cloud. It will be dry for the executions. Top temperatures of 19<sup>0</sup>, that's 66<sup>0</sup> Fahrenheit. I'll be back at midday for the next update."

The commander watched as the prisoner staggered under the weight of his cross and fell. A bystander was ordered to carry it for him to the hill. The commander glowered slightly as a flash of recognition seemed to flash between the prisoner and his cross carrier. There was a feeling that something was slipping from his grasp. The name "Simon of Cyrene" disappeared from the databank. Then his expression brightened as the whip fell across the prisoner's back. His aides laughed and shouted abuse.

The Jerusalem weathergirl smiled as she faced the camera. "Freak atmospheric conditions are to blame for this extraordinary blanket of cloud which has turned day into night. Someone asked me if it's a sign of the end of the world (she laughed loudly). No, just extreme pressure fluctuation. Current temperature is 14<sup>0</sup>, that's 57<sup>0</sup> Fahrenheit. Feeling chilly with the possibility of rain."

The commander watched in growing concern as, under the blackened sky one of the condemned turned to the prisoner who whispered "Today you will be with me in paradise." The commander turned red and screamed "Liar!" His aides nodded a murmured agreement before talking anxiously among themselves in muted tones.

The Jerusalem weathergirl smiled as she faced the camera. "We're all relieved to see the weather return to normal after that dreadfully dismal day. The slight earthquake which shook the city at three o'clock caused some panic, but the only major damage seems to be in the graveyard and the temple. Otherwise everything is back to normal. A clear night. Top temperature of 10<sup>o</sup>, that's 50<sup>o</sup> Fahrenheit. I'll be back tomorrow at 6."

The commander stood transfixed with horror as the words "It is finished" echoed around his brain. His aides stood silently as far from him as possible, looking at the ground. They had lost the prisoner. They had lost the war.

The Jerusalem weathergirl smiled as she faced the camera. "This Sunday promises to be bright and warm. After the drama of the last few days we can expect a change. Top temperatures of 25<sup>o</sup>, that's a whopping 77<sup>o</sup> Fahrenheit. I'll be back at midday for the next update."

The ex-prisoner stood outside the empty tomb in the warmth and smiled as he saw the women approaching in the early-morning sun.

God bless you,
Join us to celebrate the new dawn of Easter.

➤ Saturday Sessions

All members (and prospective members) of the three Penrallt worship bands are invited to the first of our monthly get-togethers. The aims of these sessions are

- for the musicians to get to know one another better both socially and spiritually

- to integrate new members into the team
- for us to focus on God and have the chance to worship together outside the pressures of a Sunday service
- for the more experienced among us to be able to encourage and support the newer members of the team.

The first one will be on SATURDAY 28TH APRIL at 5pm at the Collis's, 6 Maes y Dref, Bangor. It will include food! Contact Deb Stammers for more details: jonanddeborah@btinternet.com.

➤ Petition in favour of collective worship in schools

The Evangelical Alliance of Wales asks you to take a minute to read their petition on protecting collective worship in schools in Wales, which is now on the website of the National Assembly of Wales. Currently, Christian children and young people, as well as those of other faiths, have their right to practise and manifest their faith in school protected by law, with schools being required to provide collective worship. This, however, is coming under attack from the British Humanist Association who are calling for collective worship to be abolished, stating that it is extremely unpopular. This petition will, among other things, show that collective worship does matter to a great many people. Click on the following link to open it and read it and, if you agree with it, to sign it - https://www.assemblywales.org/epetition-list-of-signatories.htm?pet\_id=694.

➤ Penrallt on Facebook

100 people are signed up to Penrallt's Facebook site. Join us.

➤ Homeless in Bangor

We do not recommend giving money to the homeless. Instead, £5 in one of the brown envelopes from the table in the porch of the church (placed in the offering) will buy a hot meal for them through the St. Mary's Hostel scheme. So far Penrallt has contributed £3340 to the fund.

➤ The Prayer Room...

...is open before and after the service for quiet prayer. Penrallt is a place of prayer, so make use of this sacred space.

➤ Pray for Penrallt Every Day

Sign up to receive our prayer diary by e-mail every Monday morning by sending your request to: office@penrallt.org.

If you have some subject for prayer, either send it in by e-mail, or fill in one of the pink cards, which are available in the porch, and place it in the visitors' cards box or give it to Peter or Magnus.

➤ Pastoral Help

If you have pastoral concerns please contact Peter or one of the other members of the Pastoral Care team:

Geoff Birch 01286 870944      Pat Borlace 713146,      Eunice Smith 713296,
